

Menu

Trustworthy arguments for investment in ISO 27001 capabilities

I

Business Risk Assessment

An essential management discipline and mindset for an efficient management effort.

What is more important?

An investment in foundation for growth

Growing capabilities equals Growing business

Strategic Innovation – Master of House keeping

ISO 27001 Certification - A strong statement of organizational maturity

A new and international recognized approach, dealing with a highly relevant and actual subject.

A Best Practice on how to deal with the complexity of information security

A way of practicing "The Speed of Trust"

The higher trust – the higher pace of business

Getting to the business talk – a lot faster!

Menu

Trustworthy arguments for investment in ISO 27001 capabilities

II

An opportunity to train your organization in change

Leading change makes your organization alert, dynamic and responsive and become a strategic competence
... and information security is basically just common sense

A “must-have” competence for the present and future CIO

No-State-of-the-art IT Strategy without ISO 27001 compliance – the right answer to the question on cyber threats

Cloud Computing’s best friend

How you with trustworthiness can explain why you are ready for cloud computing to your organization and customers

A great opportunity to practice Business IT alignment

Beginning any new IT Service change request with an information security risk assessment is a great way to understand the nature of the business need.

